Building Lyndon Johnson

by David Welsh

In Houston's International Airport is an alcove decorated with color portraits of "The 15 Who Made Houston Tick," mostly business tycoons who, as the Chamber of Commerce never tires of saying, "built our city." Among them is George Rufus Brown, custodian of one of the nation's larger fortunes, board chairman of the mammoth Brown & Root Inc., and close friend and business-political associate of Lyndon Johnson. If someone made a list of the 15 men who made Johnson tick, George and his brother Herman would be at or near the top. For the Browns were the principal financiers of his early rise to power, and Lyndon is the man who more than anyone else made them rich. Brown & Root's ascension from penny ante Texas road builder to the world's third largest construction company—which numbers among its contracts a piece of the $1,600,000,000 base construction program in Vietnam—was no accident. It is no Horatio Alger story. It is the story of a politician and a business, on the make together. (Continued in the December issue of RAMPARTS magazine) and David Levine. Smetana and the Beetles will be published by Random House at the end of November.

Once upon a time there was a Princess
Whose name was Smetana.
She lived in the realm of Marxdom.
Her father was a Wicked Man.
He kept her in a Castle named after him;
It was called the Gremlin.
The Castle was surrounded by a rusty
Iron Curtain
And a Moat full of Krokodiles and Vodka.

Gremlin was a Dour Dictator.
He never played Golf.
He hated Dogs and Décolletage.
He frowned at Modern Art, Be-bop,
and even Little Bo-Peep.

"You must alarm the people of America. Tell them the United States is fighting not only communists but Vietnamese nationals of all religions, beliefs and classes.
All of us are in the fight."

—Thich Tri Quang, interviewed by Jonathan Mirsky

LETTERS TO A FRIEND

Continued

He never smiled, except at Smetana.
He had a bodyguard of Dour Dwarfs
Called the Cult of Personality Service,
Or COPS for short.

Gremlin was mean to his Subjects.
He was suspicious of Foes and Especially Friends.
He fumed and feuded with a Far-Off
Place
Widely publicized as Freeland Inc.
But he was kind to Smetana.
He carried her around, even as a Big Girl.

At night she sat on his Knee
And he read her Grimm Fairy Tales and Bedtime Dogmas.

Once he sang Happy Birthday to her
(in her native dialectic).
He gave her a Sailor Suit and wrote her
Friendly Letters
That began, "My Darling
Gremlinskaya ..."
It was not a Healthy Relationship.

Gremlin wanted to keep his little
Castle-Keeper
And brooded when she grew up and
Up and UP.

One day Smetana met a Prince
Charminsky
Who was very Cosmopolitan.
He showed her the film "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs"
And other Hollywood Pixie-Flix.
Gremlin's COPS had bugged the Projection Room.

He gave Smetana two slaps and the Prince eleven years.

To get Smetana's mind on Other Things,
Gremlin gave her a Charge Account
At Gloom Department Store;
Made her a student at Gremlingrad U.;
Let her cook, play the Harp and darn
His Socks.

It proved a flop.
He found her marching with the Gremlin Guard.
"Nyet! Nyet! NYET!" he stormed.
"A Princess has her rights!" she answered back.
"You Old Bolsheviks dated in your Day!"

There came a day when Gremlin Passed Away.

His COPS and Krokadiles skipped town
